I'VE DONE NOTHING WRONG

COUNCILLOR LEE DANGERFIELD

A SENIOR Tory councillor at the centre of a housing row after it was revealed he and his family are moving into a three-bedroom council property said this week he would welcome an independent inquiry.

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Lee Dangerfield, who is chairman of Harlow Council's housing policy working group, has flatly denied suggestions he jumped the waiting list queue after it emerged he was moving from a three-bedroom housing association property in Berecroft to a house in Park Mead with larger bedrooms.

A new kitchen and central heating system have also been installed, leading to claims that Mr Dangerfield has received preferential treatment.

But after Labour and Liberal Democrat councillors joined calls for the matter to be investigated, Mr Dangerfield remained defiant.

"I would welcome an inquiry, independent or otherwise, into my successful application for a council home," he said. "I have nothing to hide and I know that everything

Asbestos in roof of pool building 'is no health risk'

THE new owners of the Harlow Pool site in First Avenue have moved swiftly to allay local residents' health fears after asbestos was discovered in the roof of the derelict building.

The site was acquired by Croudace Homes earlier this year. The pool building will be demolished and up to 60 new homes constructed on the land.

But a survey of the building has confirmed the presence of asbestos, sparking health and safety concerns among people living in nearby Park Court.

One resident, who did not want to be named, said: "People around here are worried about the amount of asbestos that is likely to have been used when the pool was built.

"We're concerned that Croudace will knock the building down without thinking of the very real dangers exposure to a considerable amount of asbestos could pose to our health."

Another resident added: "This is not just some old garage with an asbestos roof that's going to be knocked down. It's a huge building.

"Unless Croudace take real care in disposing of the asbestos there could be serious implications for the health of people living near the site."

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

But a Croudace spokeswoman told the Star all demolition works would be carried out in strict compliance with health and safety regulations.

"As expected in a building of this age, the survey report confirms the presence of some asbestos in the building," she said.

"Demolition and specialist contractors have yet to be appointed but these works will be carried out in strict compliance of all health and safety regulations with all necessary precautions taken to ensure the safety of all."

She said that before the building is demolished any asbestos found will be removed by approved specialists and the material disposed of in accordance with regulations.

"Safety is, and has always been, of paramount importance to Croudace Homes," said the spokesoman.

"We are dismayed and surprised at the suggestion we would ever compromise the safety of anyone and any implication in this respect is totally unfounded."

'I've nothing to hide' says councillor in housing row

has been done by the book.

"The council had already decided to install a new kitchen and central heating before I was even allocated the property so how can I be accused of using my position to get work done?

"If the Labour and Liberal Democrat groups want to waste thousands of pounds of taxpayers' money on an investigation then on their heads be it because the council has not treated my application any differently to anyone else in my position."

But Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson said an investigation into the council's decision to allocate Mr Dangerfield a new home was the only way to address residents' concerns.

"If Mr Dangerfield has nothing to hide then he will have nothing to fear from an inquiry," he said. "Like the MPs' expenses scandal, this is something that has resulted in the public questioning the credibility of all councillors and the only way to answer those questions is to investigate this decision thoroughly and fairly.

"If there has been any wrongdoing I would expect him to resign immediately."

Chris Millington, leader of the Liberal Democrat group, said: "I thought the administration had cut the maintenance budget so how Mr Dangerfield has managed to have a new kitchen and central heating installed when hundreds of other tenants have been told there is no money in the pot is a mystery.

"This reflects badly on all councillors and I would like to see an independent inquiry decide whether he has been given preferential treatment because of his position of influence."

Man denies sex abuse charges

A MAN accused of sexually assaulting three young girls over a 15-year period denied the allegations in court this week.

Michael Smith (47) of Berecroft, Harlow, pleaded not guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to 11 offences which the prosecution claims took place between 1991 and 2006.

The alleged offences only came to light when one of the youngsters – now in her teens – took an overdose and confided in a hospital social worker. This prompted the two other complainants to come forward.

Diana Pigot, prosecuting, told the jury the girls had not told their families about the abuse but each had independently mentioned it to boyfriends.

"These are historic sexual abuse counts committed on these girls when they were all under the age of 10," said Miss Pigot. "The abuse took place at various locations in Essex, particularly in Harlow, and London."

Smith was arrested in January 2009 after the youngest of the three girls told the hospital social worker assistant. "Those allegations started the ball rolling", said Miss Pigot.

Smith denies eight charges of indecent assault and three of sexual assault.

The case continues.

Don't ignore gut reactions

THE recent stories about a new superbug has led to medical experts around the world rushing off to the laboratories to seek yet new treatments.

But whilst the focus was on the antibiotic resistant NDM-1 gene, most comment passed by the fact that the gene lingers in one place that is taken for granted by almost everybody – the gut.

If your gut (stomach and intestines) is functioning properly and doing its job of processing the food you eat, it is understandable why it's easy to take it for granted.

But did you know that the majority of your immune system is based in the gut? So looking after your gut helps your whole body!

There are all sorts of things that can affect the gut. Stress, poor diet, illness, certain drugs, even getting older can affect the gut and lead to constipation, diarrhoea, bloating, wind and infections.

There are many myths associated to the gut. People talk about food 'going right through them' but actually it takes about two days for food to travel along the gut and four to five hours for your stomach to empty after a meal.

Did you know that there are more than 25 different conditions all relating to the digestive system? Some may not last long and could be symptomatic of other things such as constipation and diarrhoea. However, some are long lasting, life changing and need proper medical advice and support to help manage a condition. They include:

- Acute diarrhoea caused by various intestinal infections or food poisoning.
- Coeliac Disease caused by a sensitivity to the protein gluten found in wheat, barley and rye.
- Constipation, which is normally a symptom of other problems including stress or poor diet.
- Crohn's Disease, a condition which causes inflammation in the gut.
- Heartburn and acid reflux, where food or drink travels back up from the stomach into the oesophagus
- Indigestion, which often occurs from eating or drinking too much or too quickly.
- Irritable bowel syndrome, a painful and distressing condition relating to a disturbance of the large bowel and requires expert medical care.

Most people have no idea of how important the gut is to giving signs of poor health. But the gut is unique in offering signs if you are watchful.

- Sound: rumbles in your stomach are likely to be stomach contractions sloshing digestive juices into the intestines. Together with intestinal movements, gurgling noises often mean you are hungry.
- Sight: Your faeces can differ in colour depending on what you eat but black stools might indicate bleeding in the small intestine or stomach while very pale coloured stools accompanied by dark urine may indicate gallstones or a pancreatic disorder.
- Feel: Stomach cramps or abdominal pains could be a sign of excess, but if they persist they might be a partial intestinal obstruction or Crohn's Disease
- Taste: Sufferers of acid reflux sometimes get a metallic taste caused by regurgitated stomach acid.
- Smell: It may be popular myth but men don't produce smellier wind. The smell of an individual's wind is related to the food eaten recently and the composition of bacterial 'flora' in the intestines.

Learning to live with misery of migraine

IT often comes in waves of pain causing nausea and distress – and there is no cure.

Migraine is one of the most common problems blighting people's lives today. One in seven suffer from migraines, with twice as many women being affected than men.

It costs the country over £1bn in lost hours at work.

Migraines can be triggered by many factors and each attack can last anything from a matter of minutes to 72 hours!

For many sufferers there are five stages in a migraine attack. A pre-headache stage is often the start of the problem, followed by changes in mood, a lack in energy, a loss of appetite and aches and pains.

People normally know a migraine is coming when they experience something called an aura. This is the flashes of light or blind spots, difficulty in focusing or seeing things as if though a broken mirror.

Soon after begins the dreaded pulsating or throbbing pain on one side of the head with a sensitivity to light and/or nausea.

The pain normally fades slowly and is helped by being sick or sleeping followed by a period of tiredness.

Migraines have been linked to the menstrual cycle in women with the attacks occurring within two days either side of a period.

Whilst there is no cure for the migraines, period-linked attacks can be eased with oestrogen patches.

Painkillers are the normal way to help reduce the symptoms of migraine but if they are not effective stronger triptan painkillers, prescribed by your GP, may work.

Some people also find anti-inflammatory medicines such as ibuprofen are effective, while for others a mixture of medicines may help but it's best to ask advice from your GP or a pharmacist.

You should also gain advice from your GP if you are pregnant.

You may also be referred to a migraine clinic for more specialist advice and treatment.

Army recruits rate Ryan the best in platoon

A YOUNG Army recruit from Harlow has been honoured by his fellow trainees after successfully completing a rigorous combat course.

Private Ryan Oehme, pictured right, from Church Langley, was awarded the Soldiers' Soldier prize after he was voted the best in the platoon.

Before joining the combat infantryman's course at Catterick in North Yorkshire, Ryan spent a year at the Army Foundation College in Harrogate.

He said it had proved invaluable in preparing him for the tough training regime.

"I did a year at the AFC so the course at Catterick wasn't a complete surprise," he said.

"It's a good course, you make some proper mates here and they look out for you.

"I didn't really know what to say when I was told I was the Soldiers' Soldier. I just thought to myself 'Yeah!'."

Platoon commander Colour Sergeant Michael Butcher added: "Despite his age, Private Oehme is a bit more experienced in military terms than the other recruits and he's used that experience to give guidance and help to those in the platoon who have needed it.

"This award is a well-deserved pat on the back from his fellow recruits."

Ryan received his prize at a passing out parade held at the Catterick barracks on Friday.

Van family hope for charity's help

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A YOUNG family forced to sleep in a van for 17 days after being evicted from temporary council accommodation have been told their case could be taken up by the homelessness charity Shelter.

Martin and Elizabeth Kent and their three young children were made homeless more than two weeks ago.

As reported in last week's Star, the family had been given emergency accommodation by the council in February because their home was about to be repossessed after they fell behind with mortgage payments.

But they moved from their home in The Fortunes into council accommodation in The Hornbeams a day before bailiffs came in, a decision the Kents claim resulted in the authority ruling they had made themselves intentionally homeless and therefore did not qualify for emergency housing.

The family cannot afford to rent in the private market on their combined income of up to £1,000 per month, forcing them to sleep in Mr Kent's work van.

But this week a solicitor said the council had failed in its duty of care to the family.

"There's no doubt that the council can be challenged on this decision," she said. "Under the 1996 Housing Act the authority has responsibility for people in priority need to provide accommodation until they can find their own accommodation and provide them with advice and assistance in doing this.

"I know for a fact that the council has not done either of these. I have also spoken to Shelter and the charity has a small budget to take on cases like this where children are involved."

The couple are also meeting Harlow MP Robert Halfon on Saturday to see what he can do to help.

Mrs Kent told the Star: "We're really hoping that Shelter can help.

"We've taken a lot of time off work to meet lots of people about our situation but no-one seems to be able to do anything to help."

Councillor Lee Dangerfield, chairman of the council's housing policy working group, said: "The council follows the Code of Guidance on homelessness and applies this fairly on a case by case basis.

"We review decisions in line with current guidance and case law and applies its discretion when appropriate."

FAMILY OF FIVE SLEEP IN A VAN

A YOUNG family claim they have been forced to kip in a van after being ordered to leave temporary accommodation by Harlow Council.

The Kent family were staying in emergency housing at The Hornbeams after their family home was repossessed six months ago.

But Martin and Elizabeth Kent, both 31, were told they would no longer receive help from the authority last Tuesday and their only option would be to rent privately.

However, the couple, who have three children under the age of 11, say they cannot afford private rented accommodation because both are in low-paid jobs.

They claim they would have received more help if they had been claiming benefits and have effectively been punished because they are

"Renting privately would cost us around £85 per week for a family of five," said Mrs Kent. "We can't afford that, it's more than our mortgage was and we fell behind with that.

"We've been kicked out by the council and we've been punished because we have tried to do this the right way. We would be in a better position if we just gave up our jobs and went on benefits."

The couple's oldest daughter Tiffany (9) has been sent to live with family in Watton for this week while Owen (4) and Lexi (2) are staying with their parents in Mr Kent's van.

Because both Mr and Mrs Kent work, they do not qualify for legal

Security warning

POLICE are warning householders to secure their properties following three burglaries in Harlow.

The incidents took place in Westfield, Five Acres and Kingsmoor Road on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Among the items stolen were a laptop computer, a wallet, car keys and jewellery.

Crime reduction officer Graham Anthony said: "We are finding more and more burglaries are occurring due to insecure windows or doors and we urge residents to take greater care in securing their homes, particularly at night."

Programme of council house building will give everyone the chance of a decent home

SIR, Harlow Trades Union Council is outraged at allegations of queue jumping by councillor Lee Dangerfield, chairman of Harlow Council's housing policy working group (Star, August 19). His move from Berecroft to Park Mead has naturally raised questions of fairness and probity.

If a council house that has been promptly refurbished to the Decent Homes standard is good enough for Cllr Dangerfield, will it also be good enough for the 7,000 on Harlow Council's waiting list?

Harlow TUC is overjoyed at this timely endorsement of council housing by the local Conservatives, as well as their concern for the needs of their tenants demonstrated by this swift and costly refurbishment.

Whether or not Cllr Dangerfield has bent the rules should be a matter for a public inquiry with an independent chairperson. The real issue, however, is not who gets what in the mad scramble for the limited number of council properties but the availability of affordable housing for all who need it.

In a report entitled Widening the Rental Housing Market, the Chartered Institute for Housing states: "The overall shortage of homes, in which supply across all tenures cannot keep up with demand, looks likely to become even more severe."

The same report also informs us that the formation of new households will, on average, be 261,000 per year until 2021. The Labour government's Homes for the Future green paper in 2007 set a target of 240,000 new builds per year in England yet last year only 113,420 in total were built, of which a paltry 24,810 were affordable homes.

This chronic shortage of new build housing is fuelling artificially high prices in the private housing sector. The way to make all housing more affordable is to increase supply. This is why the Harlow TUC calls on the Government to start building 250,000 council houses per year in order to house the 1.8m families languishing on waiting lists.

We also ask the Government to end the Right to Buy scheme in order to preserve social housing.

The figure of 250,000 may seem a lot,but the National Archives shows that prior to 1939, 300,000 houses and flats were being built each year in Great Britain. Despite the effects of the Second World War, Britain managed to build 228,000 permanent dwellings in 1948, with the return of pre-war figures in 1953. If that level of building could be achieved then despite national debts four times larger than today, why is it so difficult now?

A mass council house building programme would give everyone the chance of a decent home.

David Forman, Harlow TUC
Holmes Meadow, Harlow

Those most in need should get priority

SIR, I read with interest your report last week regarding the exceptional piece of good fortune encountered by Councillor Lee Dangerfield and his family in obtaining a three-bedroom council home after being on the waiting list for only five years.

I only wish the many thousands of prospective tenants who have been waiting for much longer than five years for a council home were as fortunate.

However, I am concerned that this move may have infringed the council rule that priority must be given to those needing a home. As I understand the situation Cllr Dangerfield already had adequate housing in the Berecroft area.

I wonder if the council could explain why others without adequate housing were not given this home.

Finally, if the council decides not to investigate this decision then in my view the local government ombudsman should be asked to do so urgently.

Housing chief denies jumping waiting list

CHR chairman of Harlow council's housing policy working group has denied accusations he used his position to secure a new council home for his family.

Conservative councillor Lee Dangerfield is swapping his three-bedroom home in Berecroft – owned by Estuary Housing Association – for a new council home for around five years now. I can understand why some people might ask questions but everything has been done by the book.

"My youngest daughter has not had use of a bed for two years as there isn't enough room in our current home. We desperately need more space and that's why my application has actually been

Now there should be an independent inquiry

SIR, Reading in the Star that councillor Lee Dangerfield was allowed to swap his three-bedroom house in Berecroft for a three-bedroom house in Park Mead really made my blood boil.

On the front page of the same paper there was a story about a homeless family of five that the council refused to help and who are having to sleep in the back of a van. I am certain they would have been more than happy to clear a garden themselves and not get Kier Harlow to do it for them.

Five years is not long to wait on the waiting list. I know some people have waited more than five years and are still waiting.

Cllr Mr Dangerfield had the audacity to say that he is used to putting constituents first before his family's wellbeing. Well that certainly did not happen this time – that homeless family needed the house more than he did.

It seems there is one rule for him and another rule for us. I think this issue should be investigated by a totally independent outside body as I think there are a lot of questions that need answering.

Housing rules are very unfair to single fathers

SIR, Why is Cllr Dangerfield moved to a three-bedroom house in a fairly prestigious area of Harlow so that his youngest daughter can have her own bedroom when I have been trying to move out of my bedsit for many years so as to allow me to have my six-year-old son stay?

Being a single father, I am told I am not eligible. How, may I ask, can the rule apply to a couple and not to single fathers?

Majority are still in favour of hunting ban

SIR, I would like to concur with the views of Roger Kent on the subject of hunting (Letters, August 19). I wrote to Robert Halfon on July 29 but to date have not received a reply.

After reading the letter from Mr Kent, I e-mailed Mr Halfon who, it appears, is quite happy that defenceless animals are ripped apart by dogs.

I always thought that politicians are supposed to represent the views of their constituents. I strongly suspect that the majority of Mr Halfon's constituents would be against this cruel activity.

I do not believe he would test the water to find out as he would not like to know the outcome.

I have been a lifelong Conservative supporter. This has now changed until the party takes notice of the views of the majority of the people in this country on this subject.

Court closures would have a huge impact

SIR, I, too, was shocked to hear of the proposal to close Harlow's magistrates and county courts (Star, August 5) and am pleased to support the campaign of opposition led by legal professionals.

These proposals would have a considerable effect on Harlow residents and, indeed, those living on the rural outskirts.

It would be particularly difficult for plaintiffs without personal transport. They would need to catch the bus at about 7.15am for a 10a.m.hearing as there is no hourly service until after 9am, which would be too late. If the bus breaks down, courts would take punitive action.

The need to take time off work and the costs of travelling could also deter friends and family from offering support. The work of police and legal advisers would be seriously disturbed. Crucially, it would affect the local economy.

Local justices serve their local communities and this local knowledge is invaluable. It is also very important that people can see justice carried out in their local community, either personally or through cases accessible to the local press.

If it is a cost-cutting exercise, why not reduce the number of crown court cases, which are more expensive, and hold more cases in local magistrates courts?

Councillor Jean Clark
School Lane, Harlow

Lift problems not new

SIR, I am writing in response to Ann Russell Day's letter regarding the lift at Harlow Town station (Star, August 19).

I am a 73-year-old and had a heavy case when I arrived at the station when the lift was not working. There was no-one in sight to help and no telephone number by the lift to call for help.

I eventually struggled up the stairs and asked for a complaints form. I got a reply from the rail network stating they were looking into it. That was over a year ago.

I now have to use Harlow Mill station as the platform there is accessible without stairs.

Fundraisers getting up a head of steam

VOLUNTEERS from Macmillan Cancer Support will be in Harlow next week for the launch of the world's biggest coffee morning.

The fundraiser takes place on Friday, September 24 but the build-up starts next Friday with the launch event at the Water Gardens from 10am-2pm.

Coffee will be provided by cafe Esquires and there will also be a tombola and cakes.

Meanwhile, a fundraising team from the charity visited the oncology ward at Princess Alexanra Hospital to see the work of the Macmillan nurses at first hand.

Fundraiser Ed Stevenson said: "The generosity of the public means the Macmillan professionals are able to continue their work in treating people who are living with cancer in hospitals and hospices throughout the country."

Skateboarders at tower block drive me mad

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A COUNCIL tenant claims he is being "driven up the wall" by youngsters who have set up a makeshift skate park outside his flat.

The man, who has asked to remain anonymous for fear of reprisals, said his life was being made a misery by the teenage skateboarders using the courtyard and car park outside Edmunds Tower in Wedhey.

"I went out to ask why they were not using the new skate park that has recently been built and I got a mouthful of abuse," he said.

"Why was all that taxpayers' money spent on a purpose-built skate park when skateboarders would rather use the base of a tower block?

"As I live near the ground floor the constant noise of their skateboards crashing against the concrete is unbearable."

The tenant, who is a voluntary street champion providing a direct link between residents and council maintenance contractors Kier Harlow, claims the youngsters have even taken safety bollards from a nearby building site to use as obstacles.

He added: "I also noticed that they were filming on a camcorder and my only problem with this is that if they put it on the internet all their mates will come down here and make the problem worse."

BOWLED OVER: Harlow Skatepark (s)

He is yet to receive a response from Harlow Council after logging a complaint through Contact Harlow.

However, a council spokesman told the Star: "We have received a complaint and we are investigating the matter.

"We have also reported it to the local Police Community Support Officer and our Community Safety Team is involved."

MP opposes traveller pitches bid

CONCERN over plans for permanent travellers' pitches on a site near Nazeing have been raised with planning inspectors by Harlow MP Robert Halfon.

Mr Halfon, whose constituency includes the village, was contacted by a number of his constituents after a planning application was submitted to Epping Forest District Council for 10 pitches on The Meadows site at Bumbles Green where there are already 24 caravans.

There are fears that if the application is agreed a further 20 caravans could arrive, leaving the area struggling to cope with the influx.

"It has no school, shops and health provision and an infrequent bus service," Mr Halfon wrote in a letter to the Government's planning inspectorate.

It has also been suggested that if an attempt is made by travellers to extend the site onto neighbouring land – as proposed in a previous planning application – 22 more pitches could follow.

"This would have a seriously detrimental affect on the local community," he said. "The traffic problems that it would also inflict on the surrounding area are paramount.

"The area is a designated primary route between Harlow, Waltham Abbey and the M25 and this would affect many of my constituents."

A's team make the grade

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW College celebrated a bumper set of A-level results, including 15 of the new A* grades.

The college achieved a 99 per cent pass rate among candidates – up five per cent on the numbers of students scoring an E grade or above last year. The figure also takes the college over the 97.6 per cent national average.

Some 70 per cent of pupils achieved A*-C grades, again up from the 51 per cent last year.

After collecting their results on Thursday morning, only seven students were uncertain of a place at university September and that number is expected to drop as they secure places through the clearing process.

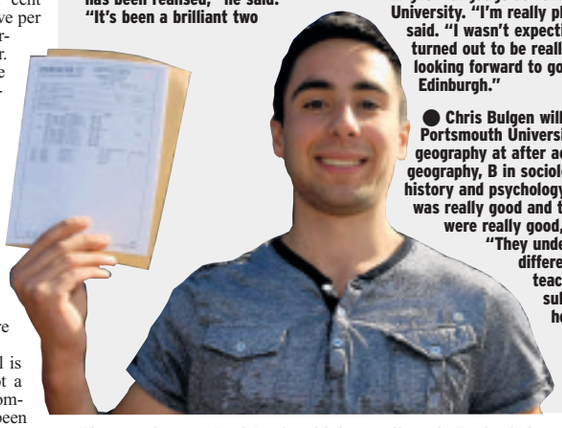

Delighted Harlow College principal Colin Hindmarch said: "We are very pleased with the results.

"The most pleasing thing overall is that only five per cent haven't got a place at university this morning compared to the 44 per cent that has been quoted nationally.

"If you want to get into university, Harlow College appears to be the place to come."

He added: "A levels aren't an easy option. Staff and students have worked extremely hard and these results are recognition of their hard work."

The A* grade was introduced this year and 10 photography and five sociology students achieved the mark.

● Harlow College's top student this year was Alex Petrou, pictured below, who notched up As in geography, physics and maths and an A* in photography. He is now planning to study civil engineering at Bath University. "Everything that I wanted has been realised," he said. "It's been a brilliant two years culminating with better grades than I expected. I'm into a great university and I'm set up for life."

● Eda Celik was awarded As in geography and history and a B in English Language and will be studying English language at Edinburgh University. "I'm really pleased," she said. "I wasn't expecting much but it turned out to be really good. I'm looking forward to going to Edinburgh."

● Chris Bulgen will be heading to Portsmouth University to study geography at after achieving an A in geography, B in sociology and Cs in history and psychology. "The college was really good and the teachers were really good," he said. "They understood different ways of teaching their subject which helped me a lot."

● Amber Robinson was celebrating after achieving an A* in sociology, a C in media and D in English language. She started at Harlow after an unsuccessful year at Hertford Regional College and will now study sociology at the University of Kent. "I wouldn't be here now if it wasn't for the staff who have been really supportive," she said.

● Liam Cairns started studying A levels in three sciences at Leventhorpe School but after a change of direction – and location – he notched up an A in media, B in film and an A in AS level drama at the college. He is going to the University of Hertfordshire and hopes to become a film maker. "I'm absolutely over the moon," he said. "I worked really hard and these two years have been fantastic."

●Robert Luchford plans to study financial management at City University in London after gaining As in IT and geography and a B in business. "It was a good experience, very positive," he said about the college. "Staff are good and friendly."

Photography tutor Paul Jarvis said the group had spurred each other on to success.

"I'm very pleased," he said. "They worked very, very hard. They were the best AS level group we had and they kept their focus throughout the whole year."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon said the college has gone from "strength to strength".

"It's rapidly becoming one of the best colleges in England," he said. "I am proud that Harlow has a college which is not just a central community institution but also has such high academic standards.

"I congratulate Colin Hindmarch, his staff and the students for the work they have put in to make the college the very best."

Record results have been celebrated at Leventhorpe School in Sawbridgeworth. It achieved a 99 per cent overall A-E pass rate, with 53 per cent achieving A*-B.

The average UCAS points scored by students increased to 325, the highest in the school's history.

Headteacher Jon Locke said: "This performance is a continuation of a trend which has seen a sustained improvement over several years.

"Overall, these results are down to incredibly hard work, good teaching and the support of the parent body."

Pupils at St Mark's School, in Tripton Road, achieved an overall pass rate of 96 per cent while 50 per cent gained A*-C grades. Some 84 students applied for university and 72 were awarded their first choice places.

Deputy headteacher John Taylor said: "This cohort of students has performed well overall building on their successes at GCSE and at A/S level. We are very proud of them all."

GCSE pupils celebrate record-breaking year

IT was another record-breaking year for GCSE results across the Star patch as the nailbiting wait for grades came to an end for Year 11 students on Tuesday.

At St Mark's West Essex Catholic School, in Tripton Road, 52 per cent of pupls scooped at least 5 A*- C grades in subjects including English and maths – the figures used by the Government as its benchmark for comparing a school's performance.

Among those who achieved excellent results were included Lewis Knight (4A*s, 6As, 3Bs), Riya Panchal (2A*s, 9As, 4Bs) and Kinjal Dave (2A*s, 9As, 2Bs).

Headteacher David Brunwin said: "This is a very good performance from all Year 11 pupils given their ability profile.

"I am especially pleased with the achievements of some of our less able pupils who have performed well above expectations."

Passmores School students notched up another set of impressive results, with 48 per cent recording at least 5A*-C grades including English and maths.

Headteacher Vic Goddard said: "I am delighted that we have beaten Government targets for the fifth year running and this achievement is all the more remarkable as a third of this year's group were only with us for two years following the closure of Brays Grove.

"The Government quite rightly focuses on the performance of students including their English and maths results and we continue to perform fantastically in these vital subjects as the basis of an outstanding education"

Stewards School celebrated its best ever GCSE results this year with 41 per cent of students achieving at least five or more A*-C grades in subjects including English and maths.

Top students at the Parnall Road school included Luke Dangerfield (7A*s, 4As), Chloe Harbutt (5A*s, 9As) and Zoyah Ahmed (5A*s, 7As).

Headteacher Rhonda Murthar said: "This is an outstanding achievement for the school and for the town as a whole.

"Our year 11 students have been a credit to themselves and to Stewards. They are to be congratulated on these fantastic results."

Mark Hall School, in First Avenue, also recorded impressive results, with 40 per cent of Year 11s posting 5A*-C grades in subjects including English and maths.

Headteacher Jane Hadlow said: "I am so pleased that the enthusiasm, commitment and hard work of students and staff have been rewarded by these results.

"The support, encouragement and high quality teaching that students have received from the staff at the school and the excellent support they have received from their parents during their time at Mark Hall has paid off for many."

Pupils at Burnt Mill School did well with 38 per cent achieving 5 A*-C grades including English and maths.

Among the best performers were Maddie Leadon (12A*s and 3 distinctions), Kat Jack (7A*s, 2As, 3 distinctions) and Emma Houghton (4A*s, 7As and 3 distinctions).

Headteacher Helena Mills said: "Our strong focus on academic excellence and the highest of expectations in all areas has paid off.

"Our students' hard work and outstanding results will give them great opportunities in life and I wish them all every success at college, in their first jobs and in the future."

Owner locked up for mistreating her pet dog is released

A DOG owner who was jailed for animal neglect has won her appeal against the sentence.

Louise Sharland (23) was prosecuted by the RSPCA after police found her miniature dachshund severely dehydrated and underweight.

Magistrates were told the two-year-old dog had recovered after being put on an intraveneous drip for four days. But they jailed Sharland and her partner, Frank Smith, for eight weeks after they both pleaded guilty to two offences of causing the dog unnecessary suffering.

However, on Friday a judge at Chelmsford Crown Court quashed Sharlan's prison sentence and replaced it with a 12-month community order with supervision.

The appeal hearing was fast-tracked because Sharland only gave birth to her third child two weeks before she was jailed.

The judge, sitting with two magistrates, was told that police and RSPCA officers went to the Fern Hill travellers site in Fern Hill Lane, Harlow, on January 26. There they saw the dog, named Rocky, was being kept in a cage made from wood and chicken wire without a door.

Both food and water bowls were empty and the absence of fecal matter indicated severe malnourishment.

RSPCA prosecutor Stephanie Farrimond said the dog's state of dehydration was approaching a life-threatening level and he weighed just 3.2kg, almost half the breed's normal body weight.

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Sharland said that when she bought Rocky three weeks earlier as a family pet he was already thin and she thought she could build him up. She said he kept knocking over his water bowl and urinating into it but accepted she should have checked more often.

Her lawyer, Richard Kelly, said in mitigation: "In a misguided way she thought they could simply get this dog back to health without any kind of intervention.

"When the RSPCA took the dog away she was distressed to see how bad a condition it was in. There was no intention to harm him.

"She accepts she was not in the best position to give this dog the care it required, having two young children and being pregnant."

Overturning the original sentence, judge David Turner said it was "excessive in the circumstances".

He said Sharland had no previous record for mistreating an animal and added that in freeing her the court had taken into account her personal circumstances.

"We are satisfied she has learned a costly and painful lesson from her time in custody," he added.

Globe-trotting nun says hello to Harlow

A MISSIONARY nun who has travelled the world spreading the Catholic message arrived in Harlow on Tuesday ahead of the Pope's visit to Britain next month.

Sister Ruth (69), originally from Birmingham, is travelling around the UK wearing a 'Welcome Pope Benedict' T-shirt.

She arrived by bus from Chelmsford and headed for the town centre where she was planning to talk to people having a drink in Yates's

"People open up to me after a few drinks, they tell me all sorts of things," she said. "I talk with them and then pray for them. It offers them some comfort."

The globetrotting Franciscan nun, who has visited 268 countries over the past 35 years, plans to visit several other towns in Essex.

"It is a lovely county," she said. "The people are friendly and I would like to retire here."

Newhall connects to town's bus network

BUS passengers are set to benefit from imprroved public transport links following changes to four routes serving Harlow.

In response to customer demand and representations from local councillors, SM Coaches has made alterations to services 9, 14, 16 and 18 to accommodate new stops and reduce waiting times.

Routes 9 and 16 have been altered to offer a better service to the Pinnacles and Templefields indusrtrial areas while the number 18 route has been revised to run every 30 minutes between Harlow and Bishop's Stortford.

Route 14 has also been revised between Harlow Town Station and Church Langley, with buses stopping at the Newhall development for the first time.

Steve Carr, general manager at SM Coaches, said: "The revised number 14 service will provide a much-needed link to the New Hall area which has had no public transport connections until now."

For more information on the changes to each route, call (01279) 426266.

Who's who in school photo?

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

OLD photos often generate more questions than they answer.

Take, for example, this picture from the Spinney Junior School taken around 1957.

It was sent in by reader Carol Gifford (nee Bolton), of Rundles, Harlow, because she could not remember why it was taken.

She found the photo as she was searching through some old items after her husband passed away recently.

Mrs Gifford is pictured in the front row, second from the right and wearing a large bow. However, what event the photograph marked is a mystery.

"I don't remember the picture being taken or why," she said. "Maybe it was a sports day but I'm not sure.

"Most people went on to Netteswell Grammar School or Mark Hall School. I still see quite a few of them around town."

The headmaster at the time was Mr Angwin who can be seen on the left of the picture. Mrs Gifford thinks the man on the right is possibly his deputy, Mr Ingram.

"Mr Angwin was really strict but really fair," she said. "He was a very good headteacher and his wife also worked at the school but I cannot remember her name."

If you have any information about the photo or have any memories of your schooldays which you would like to share with our readers, call (01279) 400577, email daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk or write to Nostalgia, Harlow Star, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE: Harlow College

A FEW weeks ago we went back to school by publishing this picture of the old Harlow College.

The college, also known as St Mary's College, was a private school for boys in Old Harlow. It was built in 1862 and demolished to make way for the Jocelyns estate.

The article brought memories flooding back for former pupil Chris Page, of The Stow, who contacted Nostalgia.

"I was a pupil at Harlow College from 1951 to 1959," he said. "Our headmaster was Rev F. L. Dames who seemed to us boys as a figure of tremendous authority.

"He was an excellent teacher who knew just how to treat young boys. He was also a kind, tolerant man with a sense of humour.

"Our old boys association, the Old Harlovians, meets once a year at our old church of St John's in Old Harlow. A toast is always made to the memory of Mr Dames."

● Further details of the Old Harlovians can be obtained by writing to the secretary Michael Dyke at Greendale, Burford, Tenbury Wells, Worcestershire, WR15 8HW.

Sculpture row

A new £1,000 sculpture depicting community spirit has sparked a row about whether the cash could have been better spent. The artwork at the unemployed centre in Wych Elm was paid for by Harlow Council.

DIY store wars?

A battle between the DIY superstores looks set if permission is granted for a 50,000 sq ft Do-It-All in Edinburgh Way. The store would rival Texas, Homecare and Bulk stores already in Harlow.

I can't bare it

No nudes is good news for Harlow Council chairman Alan Jones, who has ordered the removal of a painting of a naked woman from the chairman's room at the Town Hall. It has been replaced with a landscape by a local artist.

Shire delight

More than 100 horses and ponies ranging from Shires to Shetlands turned out at the fifth Harlow Horse Driving Show. A six-mile drive through Gilston and Harlow ended at Riverside Park.

Judge throws out shotgun bail bid

A MAN accused of having a sawn-off shotgun in his car has been refused bail.

John O'Connor (69), of the Elizabeth Way caravan site, Harlow, also faces charges of having an offensive weapon – a knife – in his vehicle, obstructing a police officer, driving with excess alcohol and driving while disqualified.

The offences are alleged to have taken place in Fern Hill Lane, Harlow, on July 30.

Judge Charles Gratwicke, sitting at Chelmsford Crown Court on Friday, refused an application for bail in O'Connor's absence.

No pleas have been entered and the case was adjourned for a preliminary hearing in October.

Signing up teams for knockout fun

FANS of the former TV game show It's A Knockout will get the chance to take part in their very own version when St Clare Hospice hosts a wacky fundraiser next month.

Organisers are looking for teams to participate in the event which takes place at Harlow Rugby Club on September 2.

Not for the faint-hearted, the fundraiser will see contestants dodging foam-covered obstacles and jumping over inflatable barrels to raise money for the hospice.

To register a team call (01279) 773750.

County criticised over bus pass consultation

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ESSEX County Council chiefs have been accused of failing to publicise a "crucial" public consultation exercise on the use of free buss passes.

Harlow Liberal Democrat councillor John Strachan is urging pensioners and anyone else eligible for concessionary travel to take part in the County Hall survey which could result in changes being made to the bus pass scheme when the authority takes over responsibility for its delivery next April.

Mr Strachan, who set up a stall outside the bus station on Terminus Street on Saturday to hand out leaflets about the consultation to passengers, warned that ECC could slap restrictions on routes, enforce shorter validity periods and even withdraw certain passes altogether if pass holders did not show their support for the scheme.

"Myself and the rest of Harlow Liberal Democrats are urging the people of Harlow to take part to ensure that their opinions are heard," he told the Star this week. "At the moment the service is a lifeline to some people and changes to the current system could have a huge impact on users.

"I am disappointed that ECC would not send out this crucial consultation to all those affected. They cited cost as the reason but at the same time they could find the money to give cabinet ministers thousands of pounds in allowance increases."

A county council spokeswoman said the consultation had been widely advertised and it had been decided the "significant additional expense" of writing to individual bus pass holders was unnecessary.

"That we have received around 3,000 replies, one third of them online, by the half way stage of the consultation would seem to bear this out," she added.

"We recognise that people are concerned about potential changes to the concessionary bus pass scheme and put this 12-week consultation in place to give them a chance to have their say.

"The consultation is being advertised through posters placed on buses, at local libraries and county council offices, at district council offices and through messages on our real time passenger information system at bus stops across the county."

A consultation form can be requested by calling 08457 430430 or completed online at www.essex.gov.uk/buspass. Copies are also avalaible from Harlow Library.

Vets supporting bid to cut 'bull breed' numbers

AN animal charity and Harlow vet have teamed up to offer a discounted neutering service for bull-breed dogs with the aim of reducing the number of unwanted puppies in the area.

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Large numbers of Staffordshire terrier-type pups bred locally often means that rescue shelters are inundated with older animals.

Now Companion Care Harlow, based in the Pets at Home store at the St James Retail Park, has signed up to a scheme run by the RSPCA.

Owners of bull breeds can contact the RSPCA's Stort Valley branch to see if they are eligible to buy a discounted castration/neutering voucher. These cost £37.50 for dogs and £57.50 for bitches and can be redeemed at Companion Care Harlow.

As well as reducing the number of puppies locally, neutering of a dog can also reduce aggression and unruly behaviour among the breeds.

Marion Wellsman, volunteer at the RSPCA's Stort Valley branch, said: "The largest population of all rehoming centres in the south-east are bull breeds and by working with a local veterinarian in this way we are helping owners to be more responsible and not breed their dogs unnecessarily.

"Many bull breed dogs are being rehomed at a very young age due to owners being unable to manage their naturally aggressive behaviour when they reach adolescence.

"The cute little Staffie puppy who was lovingly chosen at eight weeks of age can turn into a headstrong and stubborn teenager at around six-nine months.

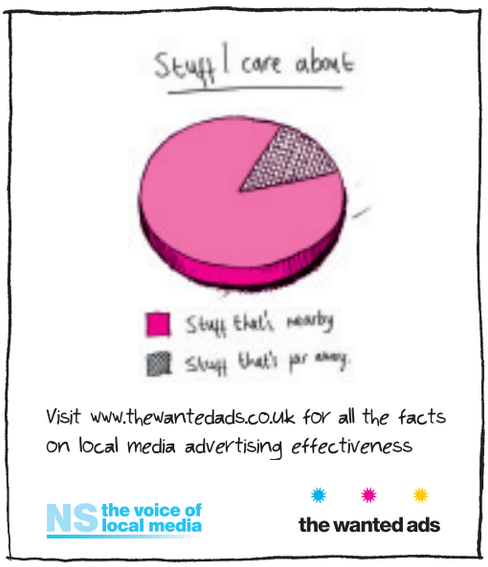

"Castration is a way of calming these dogs which, although originally bred for fighting, if trained and handled in the correct way, make wonderful pets."

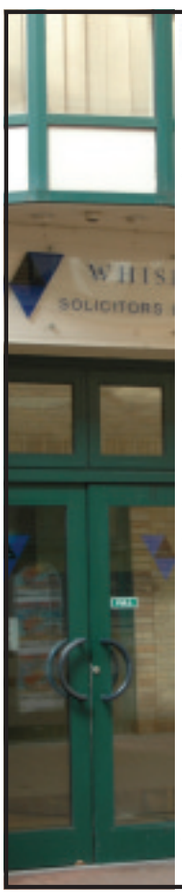

Ruth Cook, practice manager at Companion Care Harlow, added: "Staffies and other bull dogs and terriers are wonderful dogs. The problems are not usually with them but at the other end of the lead, with owners who buy them for the wrong reasons.

"All too often they are also used as money making machines and have several litters of puppies each year which are sold on to equally unthinking owners.

"Our collaboration with the RSPCA's neutering campaign ensures that cost is not an issue for owners wishing to castrate or neuter their dog and will play a small part in educating owners of these breeds."

Owners wanting to find out more about the scheme should contact the RSPCA's Stort Valley branch on (01279) 306058.

Fashion show to aid hospice

HIGH street clothes at bargain prices will be on sale at a fashion show raising funds for St Clare Hospice next month.

Volunteers from Friends of St Clare Hospice will be modelling clothes at the show which is being held at the Great Parndon Community Centre.

The garments will then be on sale for visitors to snap up for a snip.

Cash made from ticket sales and 10 per cent of the proceeds from clothes sales will be donated to the Hastingwood-based hospice.

Handmade jewellery will be on sale to raise cash for Harlow Fields School, in Tendring Road. There will also be a raffle.

Friends' chairwoman Rita Tomlin said: "It's going to be a fun event. We've got six models from our group who will be modelling the clothes to a musical soundtrack.

"Most of the money raised will be from ticket sales so we need as many people to come along as possible."

The Friends group was formed more than 20 years ago and has raised more than £150,000 for the hospice.

Tickets for the fashion show are £5 and are available from Sandra Dwan on (01279) 438504 or Rita on (01279) 433644.

Flower festival at village church

ST Peter's Church in Roydon will be decked out in blooms for a Bank Holiday flower festival which runs from tomorrow evening (Friday) to Monday.

There will be several floral displays on the theme of Great Journeys. Champagne and canapés will be served at tomorrow's preview evening which will also include musical accompaniment.

On Saturday there will be a classic car show on the village green followed in the evening by a jazz concert featuring the Stackyard Stompers, and on Monday there will be a tug-of-war and hog roast. Visitors will also be able to take their pick from stalls selling fruit, vegetables, preserves, cakes, flowers and other items.

Admission to the festival costs £2 (under 12s free). Tickets for the preview and jazz concert cost £8 in advance. The hog roast costs £6 in advance.

For more information call Richard Greenhill on (01279) 792110.

Lions' gift to sports group

HARLOW Lions Club has donated the proceeds of a special begonia sale to the All Ability Sports and Leisure Group in the town.

Earlier this year the club took part in a fundraising project called Sweet Charity in conjunction with plant growers Thompson and Morgan.

The company sold the special fragrant begonia tubers and part of the cost was returned to the club for its charity account.

The project raised £200 which was recently presented to the group by Lions club president Ronni Ayres.

A club spokesman said: "It is thanks to the generosity of people from Harlow and surrounding areas that this amount could be raised."

Donations top up Foodbank

VOLUNTEERS from Harlow Foodbank collected more than 600kg of food and £60 during a recent collection at the Sainsbury's supermarket in Fifth Avenue.

The donations will go towards providing emergency food rations to local families who have found themselves in financial difficulty.

Gary Knott, Foodbank director of community services, said: "We really do value our partnership with Sainsbury's in Harlow which has greatly helped us to support local people in crisis with emergency food.

"We would also like to thank the team of volunteers who worked so hard over the day collecting food donations."

Quiz night for Breathe Easy

THE Harlow and Epping Forest branch of the Breathe Easy network is holding a quiz night at the Sea Cadet Hall in Bush Fair on Saturday, September 4.

Breath Easy is run by the British Lung Foundation to offer support for people suffering from a lung condition and those who care for them.

The quiz night starts at 8pm. There will be a bar but you should bring your own nibbles.

Tickets cost £3 and are available from Pauline Love on (01279) 429195.

WI raises £500 for Alzheimer's

HARLOW Women's Institute raised £500 for the local branch of the Alzheimer's Society at their annual charity coffee morning held recently.

The group's next meeting takes place on Wednesday, September 8 at the WI Hall in Garden Terrace Road, Old Harlow, at 2pm. Visitors are welcome.

WIN a pair of tickets to Les Mis at The Barbican

SIR Camerton Mackintosh is presenting a brand new 25th anniversary production of Boublil & Schönberg's legendary musical Les Misérables, with glorious new staging and spectacular reimagined scenery inspired by the paintings of Victor Hugo.

Sir Cameron is bringing this award-winning show home to the Barbican Theatre in London, where it originally premiered in 1985, for a limited run of 22 performances between September 14 and October 2.

And this week we are giving you the chance to win one of five pairs of tickets to the production.

This will be the first time anywhere in the world that two productions of the same musical are playing in the same city, giving London theatre-goers the only chance of seeing this acclaimed new version.

It stars John Owen-Jones as Jean Valjean, Earl Carpenter as Javert and Gareth Gates as Marius.

Music is by Claude-Michel Schönberg, lyrics by Herbert Kretzmer and original French text by Alain Boublil and Jean-Marc Natel, adapted by Trevor Nunn and John Caird, with additional material by James Fenton.

This exciting production is directed by Laurence Connor and James Powell and designed by Matt Kinley inspired by the paintings of Victor Hugo.

For more details, visit www.lesmis.com.

To be in with a chance of winning a pair of top-price tickets to the show at the Barbican on September 14, simply answer the question in the competition enrty form and send the completed coupon to Les Mis Competition, Harlow Star, PO Box 268, Cambridge CB24 6HF

Alternatively, you can enter via the dedicated competition link on our website at www.harlowstar.co.uk. Be sure to enter 'Harlow Star Les Mis Competition' in the competition name line or your entry will be discounted. Usual Herts & Essex Newspapers Ltd rules apply.

The closing date for entries is Thursday, September 2.

FLY THE FLAG
interiors

From true Brits to our American cousins, we're getting all patriotic with some flag inspired chic. Keep things international with a reinvented traditional British Chesterfield with deep buttons and plump seats, upholstered in navy blue leather finished with metal studs. Then mix in a couple of American flag scatters and a Stars & Stripes trunk table to get the look. Closer to home, the Union Jack rules on the fab Jan Constantine scatter cushions mixed with the vintage style beaten leather Wellington sofa and a great trunk style lamp table. Finally make every day different with great design icons like a Doggie Door Stop or an Emma Bridgewater Union Jack mug. Fishpools has it all!

Boys zapped by bolt from the blue

THEY say lightning never strikes twice, but that was not the case for two teenagers who were hit by a bolt from the blue as they were watching an air show.

Both had a lucky escape, sustaining only minor injuries when a thunderstorm broke over the annual Lowestoft Air Festival in Suffolk.

For one of the boys it was a case of unlucky number 13. He is 13-years-old, it happened on Friday the 13th and on the 24-hour clock the time was 13:13 when the bolt hit him on the shoulder!

He suffered a small burn and was treated by paramedics at the scene who then took him to hospital to rest.

The other boy who was hit said he threw his umbrella down when he saw a spark on his hand.

Around 150,000 spectators were watching the air show when it happened.

It is thought around 50 people are struck by lightning each year in Britain and on average five are killed.

There are several different types of lightning, including forked, ball, ribbon and streak lightning.

↘ some enlightening facts

↘ A lightning flash is no more than one inch wide.

↘ The temperature of a lightning flash is 15,000-60,000 degrees Fahrenheit. That's hotter than the surface of the sun.

↘ A bolt of lightning moves about 62,000 miles per second – one-third of the speed of light.

↘ A single lightning flash carries an electric current as high as 300,000 amperes. For comparison, electrical wiring in a house carries 20 or 30 amperes.

↘ What we see as a flash of lightning may actually be three or four different strikes in exactly the same place, one right after another. That's why lightning seems to flicker.

↘ The Guinness Book of World Records lists Roy Sullivan of Virginia, USA, as the human being struck by lightning the most times: SEVEN.

Dust off your Day-Glo for Patrol's neon night

DAY-GLO tracksuits, gravity-defying haircuts, ra ra skirts and legwarmers – the 1980s may be the decade that fashion forgot but for one charitable Harlow rock band it will provide the inspiration for a fluorescent fundraiser this Saturday.

Goat Patrol – featuring guitarist Andy Levett, keyboard player Scott Simpson and bassist (and former Star reporter) Ciaran McGrath – will be playing a 1980s-themed set at the Half Moon pub in Bishop's Stortford to raise money for Oxfam.

With a setlist packed with classic songs by the likes of The Jam, The Clash, Duran Duran and Soft Cell, the Goats want their audience to embrace the theme.

"We want everyone to dress up as garishly as possible and to this end we'll be selling various neon accessories on the night to enhance your outfits," said Ciaran.

"We organised a similar event in London a few months ago in which everyone was dressed up in neon gear and raised well over £1,500 for the NSPCC and the James Whale Fund for Kidney Cancer, but lots of people were saying we should do something more locally."

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

In keeping with their name, the band – who will be joined on stage by guest vocalist and Stortford music scene regular Jamie Fallon – plan to use some of the money raised to buy a goat for a Third World village.

Part of the proceeds will also be put towards the fundraising total of former Star news editor Mark Fletcher, who is preparing to take part in London's Run to the Beat half marathon in aid of Oxfam on September 26.

Ciaran added: "With the recent floods in Pakistan dominating the headlines, there's never been a better time to give to Oxfam – and this way you can have some fun while you're doing it."

Aside from the live music, Saturday's event at the Half Moon will also feature a raffle, disco and karaoke competition.

Doors open at 8pm. Advance tickets are £3 (£4 on the door) and are available via goatpatrol@live.co.uk or www.facebook.com/goatpatrol.

>>ART An exhibition of paintings, prints and drawings by resident artist John Sellings is now on display at The Gallery at Parndon Mill. The thought-provoking works include still life depictions of everyday objects and sketched studies of the artist's life model. The exhibition runs until September 19 and admission is free.

>>MUSIC Jazz fans should swing by Marigolds Jazz Club in Chippingfield, Old Harlow tomorrow (Friday) night for a sizzling summer's night of jazz from the Ted Beament / Matt Wates Quartet. The group features Harlow piano ace Ted Beament, saxophonist Matt Wates and the rhythm section of Adrian Macintosh and John Rees-Jones of Humphrey Lyttleton Band fame. Tickets cost £6 in advance (£7 on the door) from (01279) 414174 or from the website at www.musicatmarigolds.co.uk.

IT'S pirouhettes and pliés at The Playhouse this weekend as Harlow Ballet Association stages its annual summer showcase.

The intimate Studio Theatre will host three performances over Saturday and Sunday, marking the culmination of the long-running dance school's regular summer workshop.

This year's show will feature a preview of the group's forthcoming production of Cinderella, the 24th edition of the biannual competition for the Anthony Osborne Choreographic Shield and a selection of routines in different styles devised during the workshop itself.

And in a real coup for HBA, Cassandra Jacobs from London's renowned Chelsea Ballet will also be putting on a performance of her successful Japanese Manga-inspired show Impressions Of Inuyasha.

HBA artistic director Michael Branwell said: "Anyone coming to the performances this weekend can expect a feast of dance in varying styles.

"There's plenty of ballet, four beautiful classical solos from Cinderella which is coming to The Playhouse next Easter and an amazing modern ballet choreographed by Cassandra Jacobs.

"But the high spot of the performances, as ever, will be the 24th choreographic competition, with seven entries of an unusually high standard, showing the wide and varied dance vocabulary which the students can learn at The Playhouse.

"Not even the Harlow Ballet School's teachers can agree on the probable winner, so come along and see if your opinion matches that of the judges."

SCOTT PILGRIM vs THE WORLD
certificate 12A 1h52m

ONE man's quest for love could result in a little more than a broken heart in Edgar Wright's video game-styled comedy based on the graphic novels by Bryan Lee O'Malley.

A blitzkrieg on the senses from the opening frames, Scott Pilgrim vs The World will appeal to young, techno-savvy audiences who live vicariously through their joypads and remotes.

Scott Pilgrim (Michael Cera) is the 22-year-old bass guitarist with the band Sex Bob-omb, which also includes guitarist Stephen Stills (Mark Webber), drummer Kim Pine (Alison Pill) and lifelong fan Young Neil (Johnny Simmons).

Scott doesn't enjoy a roaring success with girls and to stave off the loneliness, he begins dating schoolgirl Knives Chau (Ellen Wong). Gay roommate Wallace Wells (Kieran Culkin) is horrified and immediately sends a text to Scott's sister Stacey (Anna Kendrick), who tries and fails to reason with her little brother.

Then Scott meets the girl of his dreams, Ramona Flowers (Mary Elizabeth Winstead), and he is instantly smitten. They share a night together and everything seems perfect, apart from the small matter than Scott has neglected to tell Knives that he is going to dump her.

During Sex Bob-omb's first round performance at the Toronto International Battle of the Bands, Ramona's ex-boyfriend Matthew Patel (Satya Bhabha) challenges Scott to a duel to the death. "If we're going to date, you might have to defeat my seven evil exes," Ramona reveals.

So the plucky musician must face Lucas Lee, Todd Ingram, Roxy Richter, the Katayanagi Twins and record label supremo Gideon Graves.

Scott Pilgrim vs The World is an entertaining romp with a snappy script littered with choice one-liners. The stylised digital effects are very cute at first but the bombardment lasts for almost two hours and by the end of the film, we feel almost as exhausted as the characters.

Editing is frenetic, though thankfully the action sequences don't reduce to an incomprehensible blur, complimented by a loud, rocking soundtrack.

GROWN UPS
certificate 12A 1h52m

Adam Sandler and Fred Wolf penned this comedy about a group of fortysomething male friends who hanker for a return to the carefree days of their youth.

Lenny Feder (Sandler), Marcus Higgins (David Spade), Rob Hilliard (Rob Schneider), Eric Lamonsoff (Kevin James) and Kurt McKenzie (Chris Rock) are saddened to learn about the death of their basketball coach from their school days.

To honour his memory, the friends head back to the lakeside cabin of their past, in the company of family and friends including Lenny's wife Roxanne (Salma Hayek), Marcus's elderly wife Gloria (Joyce Van Patten), Eric's wife Sally (Maria Bello) and Kurt's pregnant wife Deanne (Maya Rudolph).

As they look back fondly on the past, the five men resolve problems in their relationships, exorcise a few demons and teach their children the value of friendship.

AVATAR (SPECIAL EDITION) 3D
certificate 12A 2h50m

James Cameron adds another 10 minutes of footage to his box office behemoth.

Paraplegic war veteran Jake Sully (Sam Worthington) enlists under warmonger Colonel Miles Quaritch (Stephen Lang), who is attempting to infiltrate an alien race – the Na'vi – on their home planet of Pandora.

The alien world conceals vast deposits of an ore which is worth millions of dollars. Unfortunately, Pandora will not support human life, so doctor Grace (Sigourney Weaver) comes up with a revolutionary plan to meld the minds of soldiers with alien doppelgangers, who can move among the inhabitants undetected.

In the guise of his Na'vi alter ego, Jake meets Neytiri (Zoe Saldana) and falls under her spell. But when Quaritch declares war on Pandora and launches a full-scale invasion Jake and his fellow soldiers pledge their support to the Na'vi to repel the attack.

>>SALT CIA agent Evelyn Salt (Angelina Jolie) goes on the run after a defector accuses her of being part of a cell of highly-trained Russian sleeper spies who will kill the Russian president during his visit to New York.

>>PIRANHA (3D) After a sudden underwater tremor sets free scores of the prehistoric man-eating fish, an unlikely group of strangers must band together to stop themselves from becoming food for the area's new razor-toothed residents.

>>THE EXPENDABLES A team of mercenaries head to South America on a mission to overthrow a dictator. Stars Sylvester Stallone, Jason Statham, Jet Li, Dolph Lundgren and Micky Rourke, with guest appearances from Arnold Shwarzenegger and Bruce Willis.

>>THE SORCERER'S APPRENTICE Master sorcerer Balthazar Blake (Nicolas Cage) recruits seemingly everyday guy Dave Stutler (Jay Bauchel) in his mission to defend New York City from his arch-nemesis, Maxim Horvath (Alfred Molina).

>>MARMADUKE A suburban family moves to a new neighborhood with their large yet lovable Great Dane, who has a tendency to wreak havoc in his own oblivious way.

>>STEP UP (3D) A tight-knit group of New York City street dancers team up with an NYU freshman and find themselves pitted against the world's best hip hop dancers in a high-stakes showdown.

>>TOY STORY 3 (3D & 2D) The toys are mistakenly delivered to a day-care centre instead of the attic right before Andy leaves for college and it's up to Woody to convince the other toys that they weren't abandoned and to return home.

>>SHREK EVER AFTER (3D) Rumpelstiltskin tricks a mid-life crisis burdened Shrek into allowing himself to be erased from existence and cast in a dark alternate timeline where Rumpel rules supreme.

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
With Mercury twisting backwards and the Sun moving, the accent changes and asks you to concentrate more on life's practicalities. Yet the encouraging thing is that this doesn't have to be dull, anything but, in fact. Getting fit can make sense with a friend, and you can have a giggle while spurring one another on. At work, a close alliance can also thrive. Call for more advice…

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
You can feel more sociable and outgoing but even the best laid plans could go awry, so do expect some last minute changes of plan. Yet the Full Moon can be a force for good, encouraging you to be much more open-minded when it comes to entertainment, activities and friendships. The world really can be your oyster. Just ease it open Taurus! Call your special prediction line for more…

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
Someone close to you may not take something you say at face value, so you will need to choose your words carefully. If you are in the process of buying or selling property, an unforeseen glitch can slow the chain down, so ensure you keep on the tail of all those concerned. Yet in love, as long as the emotional communication is good, things look peachy. Call for your love scope in full…

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Conversations with people can take on more importance. Even general chit-chat can be revealing. Some kind of guru or mentor can come into your situation and impact on it significantly or you can provide a lead. If you work in teaching or training a job interview can go well - provided you're not tempted to over-gild your achievements. Relax and just be yourself. Call for more advice…

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
This is probably not the best of times to splash out, but can you resist it? Anything to do with media, TV's, gizmos and gadgets can prove highly tempting, and you may find yourself craving the latest "must have" item. Yet if you can show the necessary self-discipline, this is the perfect point to get a firmer grip on your income and expenditure. Get to it! Call for your financial scope...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
Someone may challenge you. They may not approve of your approach, and feel that you've been too self-centered. This may not be how you see it and over-coming their perception, will require a human touch. They may be unaware of the pressures and demands that you're dealing with. You may need to clarify the exact position or do they have a point? Call for your in-depth forecast…

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
You have been very dynamic, so why would you let any worries creep into your mind for it is possible that you might. The reason is the deeper part of your psyche is stirred. Little nuggets of information can come up from the depths, some helpful, some unresolved hurts. Don't be fearful, for by facing these, it can prove to be so liberating to do so Libra. Call for more astral advice…

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Very often, once a Scorpio makes their mind up, there is no budging them. If you tend to be like this, maybe it makes sense to be less set about things. Events and incidents pan out like they do, partly because of the way we are at the time. You and someone else may have moved on, and it can be time to talk and this can lead to a complete change of mind. Call for more astral advice…

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Someone may put in a good word for you on a job, but even if they do, you need to still be fired up to make your own impression. As always, this is the best chance you'll ever have to woo, so don't take anything for granted. If you have had an interview that went well, wait until you get a formal offer before handing in your notice or quitting any state benefits. Call for your in-depth forecast…

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Your words take on added interest to others. This can be your knowledge they are keen to tap into or spending time in your company, socially. Yet if you are looking to make a move into full or part-time education, some little detail may have gone awry that requires re-checking. Don't put this off. Connections with people at a distance can prove to be fated. Call for more news and advice…

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
If you love a good mystery you can be in your element this week, when your nose for anything which is exciting, illuminating and also helps you to grow as an individual, will be particularly acute. Your love life can also be influenced by this energy and someone very different can have a captivating influence upon you - whether you actually like them or not! Call for your love scope…

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
The Full Moon occurs in your sign and the suggestion is that if you're not particularly happy with the direction a love tie is taking, you may seriously consider opting out. However, for single Fish, this can be a significant time to meet someone new, but with Mercury reversing still it may be no bad thing to reserve your judgment, beyond a first date. Call me for your love scope in full…

Four-bedroom period house in Old Harlow

OCCUPYING a prime location in the old town conservation area and situated opposite the picturesque Marigolds cricket ground, this charming Victorian house is tastefully decorated in keeping with both its style and character.

The present owners have lovingly enhanced the original style in both decor and furnishing to recreate the property's Victorian charm and atmosphere.

Accomodation comprises an entrance porch, drawing room (17'9 x 13'1), dining room (14'1 x 12'6), living room (13'1 x 12'6), family room (13'1 x 12'6), kitchen (13'1 x 6'11), utility room (16'5 x 6'1) and cloakroom.

The master bedroom (12'6 x 11'6) benefits from an en suite shower room. There are a further three bedrooms (12'2 x 12'2, 13'1 x 12'2 and 10'2 x 9'2) and a family bathroom.

The gardens are a delight, with three enclosed private areas colorfully designed in keeping with this home's style.

There is also a large garage and additional off-street parking.

High Street shops are about 200 yards away, junior and senior schools are within a mile and Harlow Mill station is a similar distance.

Sticking to a winning formula

By MATT JOY

AS far as good years go, the last 12 months for Hyundai is about as goodas it gets. In 2009 it smashed its own sales records and saw a 100 per cent increase in market share over 2008.

And so far in 2010 it has done even better, helped in part by the success of the scrappage scheme. But that's of no use whatsoever if the cars aren't up to scratch.

Hyundai has consistently improved the quality and performance of its cars without sacrificing value for money, a package that's hard to ignore.

Following the new ix35, updated i20 and i30 and revised Santa Fe, there's a first glimpse at the replacement for the Sonata saloon.

Traditionally, the larger saloon segment has been something of poisoned chalice for anyone other than the premium manufacturers. Despite being packed with kit and offering exceptional value for money, buyers become ever more fussy and simply want a shiny German badge.

The i40, however, is a determined attempt to change all that and the first glance should tell you this is quite a different beast to its predecessor.

For a start, it is undeniably handsome. It also owes something to the Mercedes-Benz CLS in terms of its looks, but this is certainly no bad thing. It has presence and style over and above what its price tag would suggest, and in such an image- conscious sector that is a big advantage.

The positive vibes continue on the inside, too. For a start there is plenty of space on the inside for front and rear passengers. Despite the sloping shoulder-line, it's a bright and airy cabin, particular when finished in the light grey trim colour.

Sliding behind the steering wheel puts you in front of a pleasingly high quality dashboard. The standard of fit and finish seems to improve with every successive new model from Hyundai, and in the i40 there's a comprehensive equipment list as well as an attractive layout.

Poke and prodding reveals plenty of soft-touch plastics and smooth button actions, the kind of things that help to maintain the good feeling once you've driven out of the showroom.

Out on the road,the i40 shows the hard work that's been done by the engineers over at Hyundai. Rather than going for the throat of BMW and producing a sporty saloon, the i40 is closer to the comfort end of the scale and its softer suspension is unflustered by poor road surfaces.

Should you choose to press on a little it doesn't fall apart: the steering is accurate, all the controls respond well to the driver and it doesn't roll a great deal either. Keener drivers may want a little more, but for 99 per cent of the time the i40 is more than capable.

This early South African specification car was fitted with a 2.0-litre petrol engine and a six-speed automatic gearbox, which meant low noise levels and an easy drive – there's even paddles on the back of the wheel should you want to change gears yourself.

But when the i40 reaches the UK, not only will it have a wider choice of engines including diesel options, but a number of detail changes will take place throughout to meet the exacting needs of the European driver.

Expect the handling and ride to be further improved, an improvement in cabin materials and slight styling tweaks, too.

But, most importantly, the i40 will first appear as an even more lifestyle estate ahead of the introduction of the saloon. The sleek styling will translate well into the guise of a load lugger and will undoubtedly offer plenty of space.

But the punchline will be the sticker price. At an expected entry of around £16,000 for the saloon and around £1,500 more for the estate, the i40 will cost about the same as entry-level versions of cars a size below.

By sticking to a winning formula, it seems highly likely that the i40 will succeed just as its smaller siblings have done.

End of the road for your vehicle?
Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).
Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.
What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Essex County Council

(Epping Forest District) (Permitted Parking Area and Special Parking Area) (Amendment No.6) Order 2010

Notice is hereby given that Essex County Council has made the above Order under Sections 1(1), 2(1) to (3), 4(1), 4(2), 32, 35, 45, 46, 49 and 53 and Parts III and IV of Schedule 9 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the orders:

1. To introduce the following waiting restrictions on the lengths of road in the District of Epping Forest as specified in Schedule 1 to this notice.
2. To revoke the waiting restrictions on the lengths of road in the District of Epping Forest as specified in Schedule 2 to this notice.

This Order will be incorporated into The Essex County Council (Epping District) (Permitted Parking Area and Special Parking Area) (Consolidation) Order 2008.

Date of operation: The Order will come into operation on 27 September 2010.

Further details: A copy of the Order and plans may be examined during normal office hours at County Hall, Chelmsford CM1 1LX.

Application to the High Court: Anyone who wishes to question the validity of the Order of any provision contained in it on the grounds that it is not within the powers conferred by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 or on the grounds that any requirement of the Act, or any instrument made under it, has not been complied with in relation to the Order, may within six weeks from the date of the making of the Order apply to the High Court for this purpose.

Porter blow for Hawks

By ALAN SCOTT
alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HAWKS boss Kevin Warren could bring in a midfielder on loan after Andy Porter dislocated a shoulder.

Porter fell awkwardly in Saturday's 1-0 win over Grays in the Ryman League division one north opener.

He later went to hospital where it was discovered he had dislocated the shoulder and he could be out for some time.

"I hope to bring in someone on loan," said Warren. "I have spoken to two people. They could come in. I'm working on that."

Hawks immediately recalled Shaun Gliddon from a loan spell at Spartan South Midlands League side Hertford Town and he featured as a late substitute in Tuesday's 3-0 league win against Potters Bar Town, Hawks' first home match of the new campaign.

BLOW: Andy Porter has dislocated a shoulder (HSP0671576)

Gliddon was one of three loaned to Hertford.

James Pegram and striker Reece Dobson will remain at the Hertfordshire side, but can be called back if Harlow require their services.

Harlow host Barton Rovers in the preliminary round of the FA Cup this Saturday.

Aside from Porter, Warren has a full squad to choose from.

With big money up for grabs, Harlow know how important it is to get through.

The winners will host Spartan South Midlands League side Kentish Town or Essex Senior League team Bethnal Green United in the first qualifying round.

Harlow Town are away to Enfield Town in the Ryman division one north on Monday (3pm KO). Midfielder Clark Akers misses this match as he serves a one-match ban following his red card against Grays Athletic.

Games on for Andy

He will be up against Kenyan David Rudisha who smashed the World Record in Berlin at the weekend, recording a stunning time of 1:41.09.

"I have got to be in better shape than the guy who broke the World Record. I am going to go out there and give them hell.

"I've just got to run close to my PB. It's going to be the race of my life. I could actually run below my PB and still get a medal. I'm just pleased to get this opportunity. I feel confident in my own ability.

"I will be most nervous in my heat. I've got more to lose then in any other round, but I should get through the heat. Then to get through the semi, I would then be in the final in the Commonwealth Games. It's not going to be a struggle to step up your game then."

The former Leventhorpe School pupil has been plagued by injuries over the last two years, but says these are firmly behind him now.

He will have an intensive seven-week training period before flying to Qatar – where he competed in the World Championships this year – to acclimatise to the conditions in Delhi.

He explained: "It's going to be very different out there [in Delhi]. It's going to be very hot.

"But I am in the shape of my life. I have got to be cautious and stay injury-free. I will be sensible. I think 1.45 is well within my reach. I'm not going to say that [I'm going to win a medal]."

Osagie burst onto the athletics scene two years ago, representing England at an international meeting in Eastern Europe.

He has run under the England 800m qualifying time of 1:47.50 for the Games twice this season, with a best of 1:47.18.

He won the UK Indoor 800m title earlier this year.

Rated highly by Great Britain's 800m Olympic gold medallist Dame Kelly Holmes, Osagie hopes to represent Team GB in London in two years' time or in Brazil in 2016.

Dame Kelly said: " It will be a great learning experience for Andrew to compete in a multi-sport event as he builds towards London 2012 and I am sure that he will perform very well."

Osagie added: "My ultimate aim is the Olympics in 2012 and 2016."

● ANDREW Osagie is hoping to attract sponsorship to help him now he is a full-time athlete.

He needs help with transport costs to get to and from competitions and to enable him to concentrate 100 per cent on his athletics – and he desperately hopes a Harlow-based company or individual can come on board and help him promote the town.

Bumper haul on a Pits stop

Angling

STORT Valley Angling Society enjoyed a fruitful visit to Roswell Pits near Ely.

Twenty-two members weighed in with more than 325lbs of fish.

Danny Cruse easily claimed first place with a fine haul of 64lbs 2ozs, well ahead of club stalwart and fund-raiser Malcolm Gregg, who weighed in with 35lbs 8ozs.

This was just 10ozs ahead of club chairman, Mick Westby.

The annual Netteswell Cup was yet another trophy for the Cruse cabinet with Danny landing a fine mixed bag of 25lbs 1oz.

Long-serving club member, Tony Henson, came second, netting 16lbs 5ozs.

This was just over 1lb ahead of Netteswell regular Derek Dampney, who filled third spot.

No Grays matter as Hawks start with a bang

Grays Ath 0, Harlow Tn 1

Ryman League, division one north

THEY may have only avoided relegation to the Essex Senior League by the skin of their teeth but the Hawks have certainly put down a marker this season.

Having dropped down three divisions from the Blue Square Premier, Grays Athletic were understandably one of the favourites for promotion.

However, those odds might have fallen quite dramatically after Saturday's result while Harlow Town's stock has risen considerably.

Hawks boss Kevin Warren, in his first league game in charge since being made permanent manager in the summer, was understandably delighted. He said: "It was a good start. We wanted to send a message out to the league. We are not going to be walkovers this season."

Grays, who gave a debut to ex-Hawks favourite and manager Marvin Samuel, started well and Simon Thomas struck a post with a shot which had Harlow keeper James Hasell beaten.

The visitors soaked up the early pressure well and started to come back into the game, shutting down Grays quickly when they had possession and forcing mistakes.

The Hawks broke the deadlock on 14 minutes. Mark Taylor's free-kick to the front post was met by Che Stedhart, who was closely marked by Samuel, but he still managed to head the ball in.

On 19 minutes another free-kick caused a big scramble inside the Grays box with the ball falling to Jon Stevenson who hit a shot just wide.

Soon after the break Grays were on the attack and Duran Reynolds' header was tipped over the bar superbly by Hasell.

Stung, Harlow pushed on in search of a second and Sosthene Yao went close with a shot.

On 54 minutes, the Hawks brought on Louis Riddle, when Andy Porter fell awkwardly.

Harlow continued to press and Yao was denied by a last-ditch tackle after beating several home players.

A Taylor free-kick was parried by the Grays keeper into the path of Yao but his diving header hit a Grays defender and deflected away.

Late on Yao had a reasonable shout for a penalty turned down after a push in the box.

The Hawks suffered a blow on 88 minutes when midfielder Clark Akers, who had earlier been booked, was sent off for a second yellow after a bad tackle. He will miss Saturday's home match against Barton Rovers in the preliminary round of the FA Cup.

However, this did not disrupt Harlow's momentum and they held on to record an impressive away win.

HARLOW TN: Hasell, M. Taylor, Bradley Barnes, Roget, Stevenson, Stewart, Wheeler, Porter (Riddle 54), Yao, Stedhart (Ben Barnes 84), Akers (sent off 88 mins). Subs not used: Chapman, Velandia, Madden. Att: 306.

Murtagh fourth in GB Vet 45 Champs

HARLOW'S Steve Murtagh was fourth fastest veteran 45 at the British National Championships.

The Harlow Running Club member was second in the Southern Counties Championships Vet 45 section, run alongside this event.

These events were incorporated in the Burnham Beeches Half Marathon.

Murtagh was 20th overall out of more than 900 finishers, a superb achievement. He clocked 1 hr, 18 mins and 32 secs.

Club-mates Jamie Jephcott and John Tennant completed the second of three races in the Stevenage Midweek 5K Series.

On a breezy evening both runners narrowly failed to equal their times from the first race.

Jephcott finished in 18 minutes and 32 seconds, just a second outside his first time. Tennant clocked 19.23, eight seconds outside his first time.

Harlow's mammoth win

HARLOW wasted no time in putting hosts Benfleet to the sword on Saturday.

Harlow put on a mammoth 300-9 in their 50 overs. It was their biggest score this season and their biggest margin of victory.

Skipper Jason McNally top scored with 89, while Ahmed Khawaja ensured his went over the 1,000 run mark with 61.

After the early departures of openers Rehman Ahmed (6) and Nilesh Modhwadia (26), Khawaja and McNally put on 169 for the third wicket.

The skipper's knock included eight fours and five sixes.

Khawaja struck eight fours and one six.

James Butler chipped in with 37.

Benfleet's best bowler was Andrew Scott.

He removed Khawaja and finished with 3-63.

The hosts were then bowled out for 53 in 17.4 overs.

Andrew McGarry produced another fantastic performance with the ball, notching six wickets for just 10 runs from his nine overs which accrued no less than seven maidens and squeezed the life out of Benfleet.

His stint included a wonderful hat-trick to remove Mike Tremain, Kamran Khan and Andrew Jenkins as the side slipped from 26-2 to 45-5.

Three more wickets followed as Benfleet then went to 48-8. McGarry and Khawaja picked up a wicket either side of a run out and the end was nigh.

Opener Paul Tremain (19) was the only batsman to offer the slightest resistance. The rest failed to make double figures.

Khawaja chipped in with two for five runs from 3.4 overs.

"It was a huge win. This was the first time our three most experienced players have all come together on the same day," said McNally.

The side are seven points outside the promotion places. "We will not give up. There is not a lot more we can do than keep winning," the skipper added.

Grand day for Ahmed

By ALAN SCOTT

SKIPPER Jason McNally hailed batsman Ahmed Khawaja after he reached a memorable milestone when he passed the 1,000 run barrier for Harlow Cricket Club on Saturday.

The star batsman struck 61 in his side's mammoth 247-run defeat of Benfleet to surpass four figures for the season.

Khawaja only joined the Shepherd Neame Essex League division two side this year from division three side Old Brentwoods.

He also recorded 1,000 runs last season for his old club

Khawaja has enjoyed a phenomenal season for the Marigolds men.

The side remain in touching distance of the promotion.

The number three batsman has scored 1, 036 runs in his 16 league games at an average of 81.93. There are two games remaining.

He has bagged four centuries and five 50s.

His highest score was 153 not out against Buckhurst Hill in May.

Skipper McNally, who bats at number four, has spent more time at the crease with Khawaja then anyone else.

The pair have hit an incredible 1,700 runs together this term.

"He does not hold back. He scores his runs very quickly," said McNally.

The combination of Khawaja and McNally has caused sides so many problems because they are complete opposites, said the Harlow skipper.

McNally said: "He [Khawaja] really foes take the Mickey out of the medium pacers. His hand to eye speed is incredible. He played shots I cannot play and I can play shots he cannot play. He is left-handed and I am right-handed. He is strong on the front foot and I am strong on the back foot.

"I am better at spin. He is better at medium pace. It's genuinely a nightmare to bowl against. We are complete opposites."

Harlow visit Old Southendian this Saturday.

They remain seven points behind Buckhurst Hill, just outside the promotion places and need their rivals to slip up in one of their remaining two games to go up.

Hill face leaders Harold Wood away in their final game.

Mixed fortunes for Town cricket sides

THERE were mixed fortunes for Harlow Town Cricket Club's three Herts & Essex Cricket League teams at the weekend.

The first team defeated champions-elect Farnham, while the second team clinched promotion in division three.

The third team endured a nail-biting finish before losing to Albury in division six.

The win sealed the title for Albury, but Harlow Town should secure promotion in the final weekend of matches this Saturday.

A brilliant century from Shiraz Ali set Harlow Town's first team on their way to a brilliant victory over Farnham.

Ali carried his bat, hitting an unbeaten 111 which included 13 fours and a six as Town put a dent in Farnham's title hopes.

It was his third century of the season as Town scored 224 from their 45 overs.

The only other score of note was 27 from Ramaya Upadhayay.

A crucial last-wicket stand of 45, of which Town's number 11 Simon Rowell contributed one run, helped Town to a defendable total.

A good start with the ball for Town had Farnham on the back foot on 36-3 as Marc Lowers claimed two early wickets.

A half century from Mark Green, for Farnham, slowly recovered the innings but when he was dismissed by Shane Hooper (2-35) a flurry of wickets followed.

The run rate increased as the tight bowling built up pressure on the Farnham batsmen and they fell 18 runs short of the target required (208).

Harlow Town II sealed promotion to division two after a six-wicket victory over Woodford Wells IVs.

James Hayter top scored with 43 for Town as they passed the target set of 151 with one over to spare.

Woodford were restricted to a moderate total of 150 thanks to some tight bowling as Nick Teale claimed 3-25 with his wily, slow bowling.

Harlow Town III lost by 7 runs at Albury.

A collapse saw the visitors bowled out for 132 while chasing 140 to win.

Four bonus points will be enough to put them in division five next season.

Leaders too good for Harlow SC

Squash

HARLOW'S second team fielded a weakened side when they lost 3-0 at home to table-topping North Herts (Letchworth) in division four of the Herts Squash League.

First string Peter Izatt struggled against his opponent and was comprehensively beaten 6-15, 4-15, 2-15.

Second string Richard Lewis lost his first set 10-15 then was hammered 1-15 in the second set. He battled back and was unlucky to lose a close third set 12-15.

Third string Rob Coghlan started well and won his first set 15-8 and was unlucky to lose a close second set 14-16. This set back proved crucial as Coghlan lost another close third set 12-15 and then the fourth 7-15 for a 3-1 loss.

This defeat leaves Harlow in mid-table with seven wins and eight loses.

The first team were without a fixture this week.

Osagie becomes FOURTH Harlow athlete to get nod for Commonwealth

ANDREW Osagie has pledged to 'give him hell' as he bids for a medal at the Commonwealth Games in India this October.

On Monday, England Athletics named the Harlow-based middle-distance runner in its squad for the Games.

It will be the first time 800m runner Osagie, of Northbrooks, has competed at the event which takes place in Delhi.

By ALAN SCOTT
alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

There will be four competitors from Harlow at the Games.

Osagie will join netball star Joanne Harten, judo player Faith Pitman and marksman James Huckle on the sub-continent.

The highly-rated runner has already clocked 1:47.15 recently – just a fraction outside the time (1:46.98) that clinched the bronze medal in the 800m at the last Commonwealth Games in Melbourne in 2006.

However, the Harlow Athletic Club member expects to face a much stronger field this time around.

"I'm just trying to keep my feet on the ground," said Osagie, who is now a full-time athlete having completed his degree at St Mary's College in West London.

"It should be awesome. It's the second biggest sporting event behind the Olympics.

"I am looking to go there and get PBs (personal bests). I cannot just go there and run better than I have before. I've just got to try and get through the early rounds and try and get in the final – then anything can happen."

The 22-year-old, pictured right, was one of three 800m male runners named in the England squad.

Fitness work pays off for industrious Hawks

Harlow Tn 3, Potters Bar Tn 0

Ryman League, division one north

A TOUGH pre-season training regime is paying dividends for the Hawks, says boss Kevin Warren.

Two goals in the last five minutes may have flattered Harlow Town, but this was a game that would have seen the Hawks slip up and concede a late equaliser in previous seasons.

The result gave Harlow a second successive win to move them to third in the fledgling Ryman division one north table.

Warren said: "I think we deserved the three points. Potters Bar were never going to come and lay down. They gave us a game.

"Three-nil does flatter us but I think with the chances we had, we should have won.

"We wanted to get the players as fit as possible. The players are saying they've never felt any fitter. Last season at the 70-minute mark we would have fallen away."

The visitors started well and Hawks keeper James Hasell made the first of a string of fine saves on only three minutes to stop a Ashley Harrison-Baker header.

Sosthene Yao and Clark Akers went close for Harlow.

Fiery Akers, sent off against Grays on Saturday, was booked for a flying tackle and then substituted before half-time as Warren refused to run the risk of going down to 10 men again.

When Jon Stevenson's free-kick was spilled by the Potters Bar keeper and fell to Louis Riddle but his effort was cleared off the line.

However, the visitors' respite was brief as Stevenson found Che Stedhart and he controlled the ball well with his feet before calmly slotting under the advancing keeper for his second goal in two games on 41 minutes.

Harlow's half-time lead was kept intact by a fine free-kick stop from Hasell.

Hasell then saved down low at his near post to deny Potters Bar eight minutes after the break.

The Hawks felt they should have had a penalty on 64 minutes when Laurie Stewart's goal-bound header appeared to hit a Potters Bar defender's arm, but the referee rejected appeals.

Harlow required the assistance of their keeper who tackled a Potters Bar forward 25 yards out from his line to deny an equaliser.

Warren brought on Ben Bradbury in the 85th minute and this move proved crucial.

Within two minutes, Mark Taylor's free-kick was floated over to the back post and Bradbury nipped through to head in Harlow's second.

As the game entered injury-time, Bradbury intercepted ball on the halfway line, and stormed powerfully through midfield before crossing to Yao who was crudely brought down.
